

Ruled
NON-GERMANE

AMENDMENT TO H.R. 2885
OFFERED BY MR. NAJLER and MS. LOFGREN

Page 19, line 16, strike "on the date" and all that follows through line 18, and insert the following: "on the date (hereinafter in this subclause referred to as the 'trigger date') that is 6 months after the effective date of subclause (I), except that, if there is an increase of over 25 percent in the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal during the 6 month period immediately preceding the trigger date, such trigger date shall be extended by a period of time equal to the period beginning on the trigger date and ending on the date that the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal is less than or equal to the average prior to the trigger date."

Page 19, line 24, strike "on the date" and all that follows through page 20, line 2, and insert the following: "on the date (hereinafter in this subclause referred to as the 'trigger date') that is 6 months after the effective date of subclause (II), except that, if there is an increase of over 25 percent in the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal during the 6 month period immediately preceding the trigger date, such trigger date shall be extended by a period of time equal to the period beginning on the trigger date and ending on the date that the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal is less than or equal to the average prior to the trigger date.”.

Page 20, line 8, strike “on the date” and all that follows through line 10, and insert the following: “on the date (hereinafter in this subclause referred to as the ‘trigger date’) that is 6 months after the effective date of subclause (III), except that, if there is an increase of over 25 percent in the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal during the 6 month period immediately preceding the trigger date, such trigger date shall be extended by a period of time equal to the period beginning on the trigger date and ending on the date that the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal is less than or equal to the average prior to the trigger date”.

Page 20, line 16, strike “on the date” and all that follows through line 18, and insert the following: “on the date (hereinafter in this clause referred to as the ‘trigger date’) that is 6 months after the effective date of clause

(i)(I), except that, if there is an increase of over 25 percent in the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal during the 6 month period immediately preceding the trigger date, such trigger date shall be extended by a period of time equal to the period beginning on the trigger date and ending on the date that the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal is less than or equal to the average prior to the trigger date.”.

Page 20, line 25, strike “until the date” and all that follows through “the Legal Workforce Act.” on page 21, line 2, and insert the following: “until the date (hereinafter in this clause referred to as the ‘trigger date’) that is 6 months after the effective date of clause (i)(IV), except that, if there is an increase of over 25 percent in the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal during the 6 month period immediately preceding the trigger date, such trigger date shall be extended by a period of time equal to the period beginning on the trigger date and ending on the date that the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal is less than or equal to the average prior to the trigger date.”.

Page 24, line 14, strike “on the date” and all that follows through line 16, and insert the following: “on the date (hereinafter in this clause referred to as the ‘trigger date’) that is 6 months after the effective date of clause (i), except that, if there is an increase of over 25 percent in the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal during the 6 month period immediately preceding the trigger date, such trigger date shall be extended by a period of time equal to the period beginning on the trigger date and ending on the date that the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal is less than or equal to the average prior to the trigger date.”.

Page 24, line 20, strike “on the date” and all that follows through line 23, and insert the following: “on the date (hereinafter in this clause referred to as the ‘trigger date’) that is 6 months after the effective date of clause (ii), except that, if there is an increase of over 25 percent in the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal during the 6 month period immediately preceding the trigger date, such trigger date shall be extended by a period of time equal to the period beginning on the trigger date and ending on the date that the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal is less than or equal to the average prior to the trigger date.”.

Page 25, line 4, strike “on the date” and all that follows through line 5, and insert the following: “on the date (hereinafter in this clause referred to as the ‘trigger date’) that is 6 months after the effective date of clause (iii), except that, if there is an increase of over 25 percent in the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal during the 6 month period immediately preceding the trigger date, such trigger date shall be extended by a period of time equal to the period beginning on the trigger date and ending on the date that the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal is less than or equal to the average prior to the trigger date.”.

Page 25, line 15, strike “until the date” and all that follows through “Legal Workforce Act” on line 17, and insert the following: “until the date (hereinafter in this subparagraph referred to as the ‘trigger date’) that is 12 months after the effective date of subparagraph (A)(iv), except that, if there is an increase of over 25 percent in the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal during the 6 month period immediately preceding the trigger date, such trigger date shall be extended by a period of time equal to the period beginning on the trigger date and ending on the date that the average processing time for a Social Security disability insurance benefit application or appeal is less than or equal to the average prior to the trigger date.”

